---	--	-----------------------

This is a very difficult set of readings. The Gospel itself starts with a saying, which many find hard to understand: must we really hate our family to be the Lord's disciples? The point is that it is relative: what are we prepared to give up for the Gospel. Are we going to try and make our own cross, or accept whatever we are given? Jesus is probably trying to discourage the crowd of sensation seekers and hangers-on who are crowding round him. He wants real disciples, who are aware of the possible cost: not like the incompetent builder, or the useless king. To be a disciple, one must be prepared to follow Jesus anywhere, whatever it might cost in possessions, family or friends. We may never understand why, but then, who can know the intentions of God?

ANIMA CHRISTI Soul of Christ, sanctify me. Body of Christ, save me. Blood of Christ, inebriate me. Water from the side of Christ, wash me. Passion of Christ, strengthen me. O good Jesus, hear me. Within thy wounds, hide me. Suffer me not to be separated from Thee. From the malignant enemy, defend me. In the hour of my death call me, and bid me come to Thee, that with Thy saints I may praise Thee for ever and ever. Amen.

Update on the roof at St Thomas of Canterbury

As I explained last Sunday, unfortunately, the Archdiocese has asked for the works to the replace the roof to the church and Newman Centre to be put on hold for various reasons. I realise that this is frustrating, and it means that we will have to live with the buckets for a little while longer, but please be patient! This momentary break before the works start means that I now have an opportunity to fully understand what is needed. It will also allow sufficient time for the various permissions and approvals to be sought from the Archdiocese.

The roof, however, is a small part of a much bigger picture. As I also briefly explained last Sunday morning, the church building has a long list of additional issues which need to be addressed – some of these you may be aware of, others you won't.

I am, therefore proposing that we have a meeting after the 11.15 a.m. Mass on Sunday 13th October. (Please note the change of date.) By this point, I will have met with an architect to look at the various works (apart from the roof) which need to be completed, and, will hopefully, have a better understanding of the situation with the new roof.

I ask that we seek the Intercession of St Thomas of Canterbury for our parish as we prepare for these works to make the church building fit for the twenty-first century. Thank you for your ideas for fundraising – please keep these coming and we can start thinking about how we move forward.

With every blessing,

Fr Craig.
